World Book Day

A reminder that next Thursday the 7th of March is 'World Book Day'. The children are invited to come to school dressed as a book character, and on the day we will be enjoying meeting local author Andrea Pate.

We have included a link to the website examples if you would like some ideas.

Red Nose Day 2019

A reminder that this year Comic Relief is on Friday the 15th March. Our School Parliament children have been thinking about what we can do and they have decided to give children the choice of coming to school with either crazy socks or crazy hair. They thought this way the children could still wear their school uniform.

We will also be selling Red Nose Day cakes during and after the projects exhibition that will be held in the afternoon.

Common Sense

This week we have been thinking about common sense in assembly, and listening to stories based on the theme.

We have talked about using our common sense to overcome problems and difficult situations in our lives.

The children have contributed wonderful suggestions for ways to overcome these challenges.

Well done children!

Still on sale...

We have ordered some more Red Noses to sell on behalf of Comic Relief. They will be available from the office at a cost of £1.25.
